

Mapping the geography of a community need

SOC 375 Community Development – Spring 2024

You will create a map of DC that represents some aspect of the landscape of community needs that the organization you are profiling is working to address. Where are those needs most acute? Where are they least of an issue? Devise an attractive way to represent this variation across the DC area. You should include on your map the location(s) of the organization you profiled, in addition to the locations of other organizations working on the community needs you have represented on your map. Clearly cite the sources of any data you are representing on the map.

Presentation of map in class: DUE 3/21 (week 10) (15%)
